Thank you for your continued commitment and dedication to spreading and delivering (via all means possible) the Word and the Truth! - Daniel

A letter from our founder

Dear Friend,

Denison Forum began fifteen years ago. If you had told me then that I'd be writing a letter like this now, I might not have believed you. My dear friend and cofounder Jeff Byrd and I often wondered how long this ministry would continue.

And yet, by God's grace and the continued, faithful support of donors like you, the ministry has grown and thrived. I couldn't know in the beginning that we would reach so many, but I knew that if we stayed faithful to God's calling on our ministry, he would water the seeds we planted.

Our mission takes its cues from the apostle Paul's words in Ephesians 4:12: Denison Forum exists "to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ."

You're about to learn even more of the history of our ministry. And while these facts may be interesting, especially if you're new to following us, know this truth behind the facts: partners like you have encouraged and inspired millions of believers across the globe to live for God in a world that increasingly wants to shut him out.

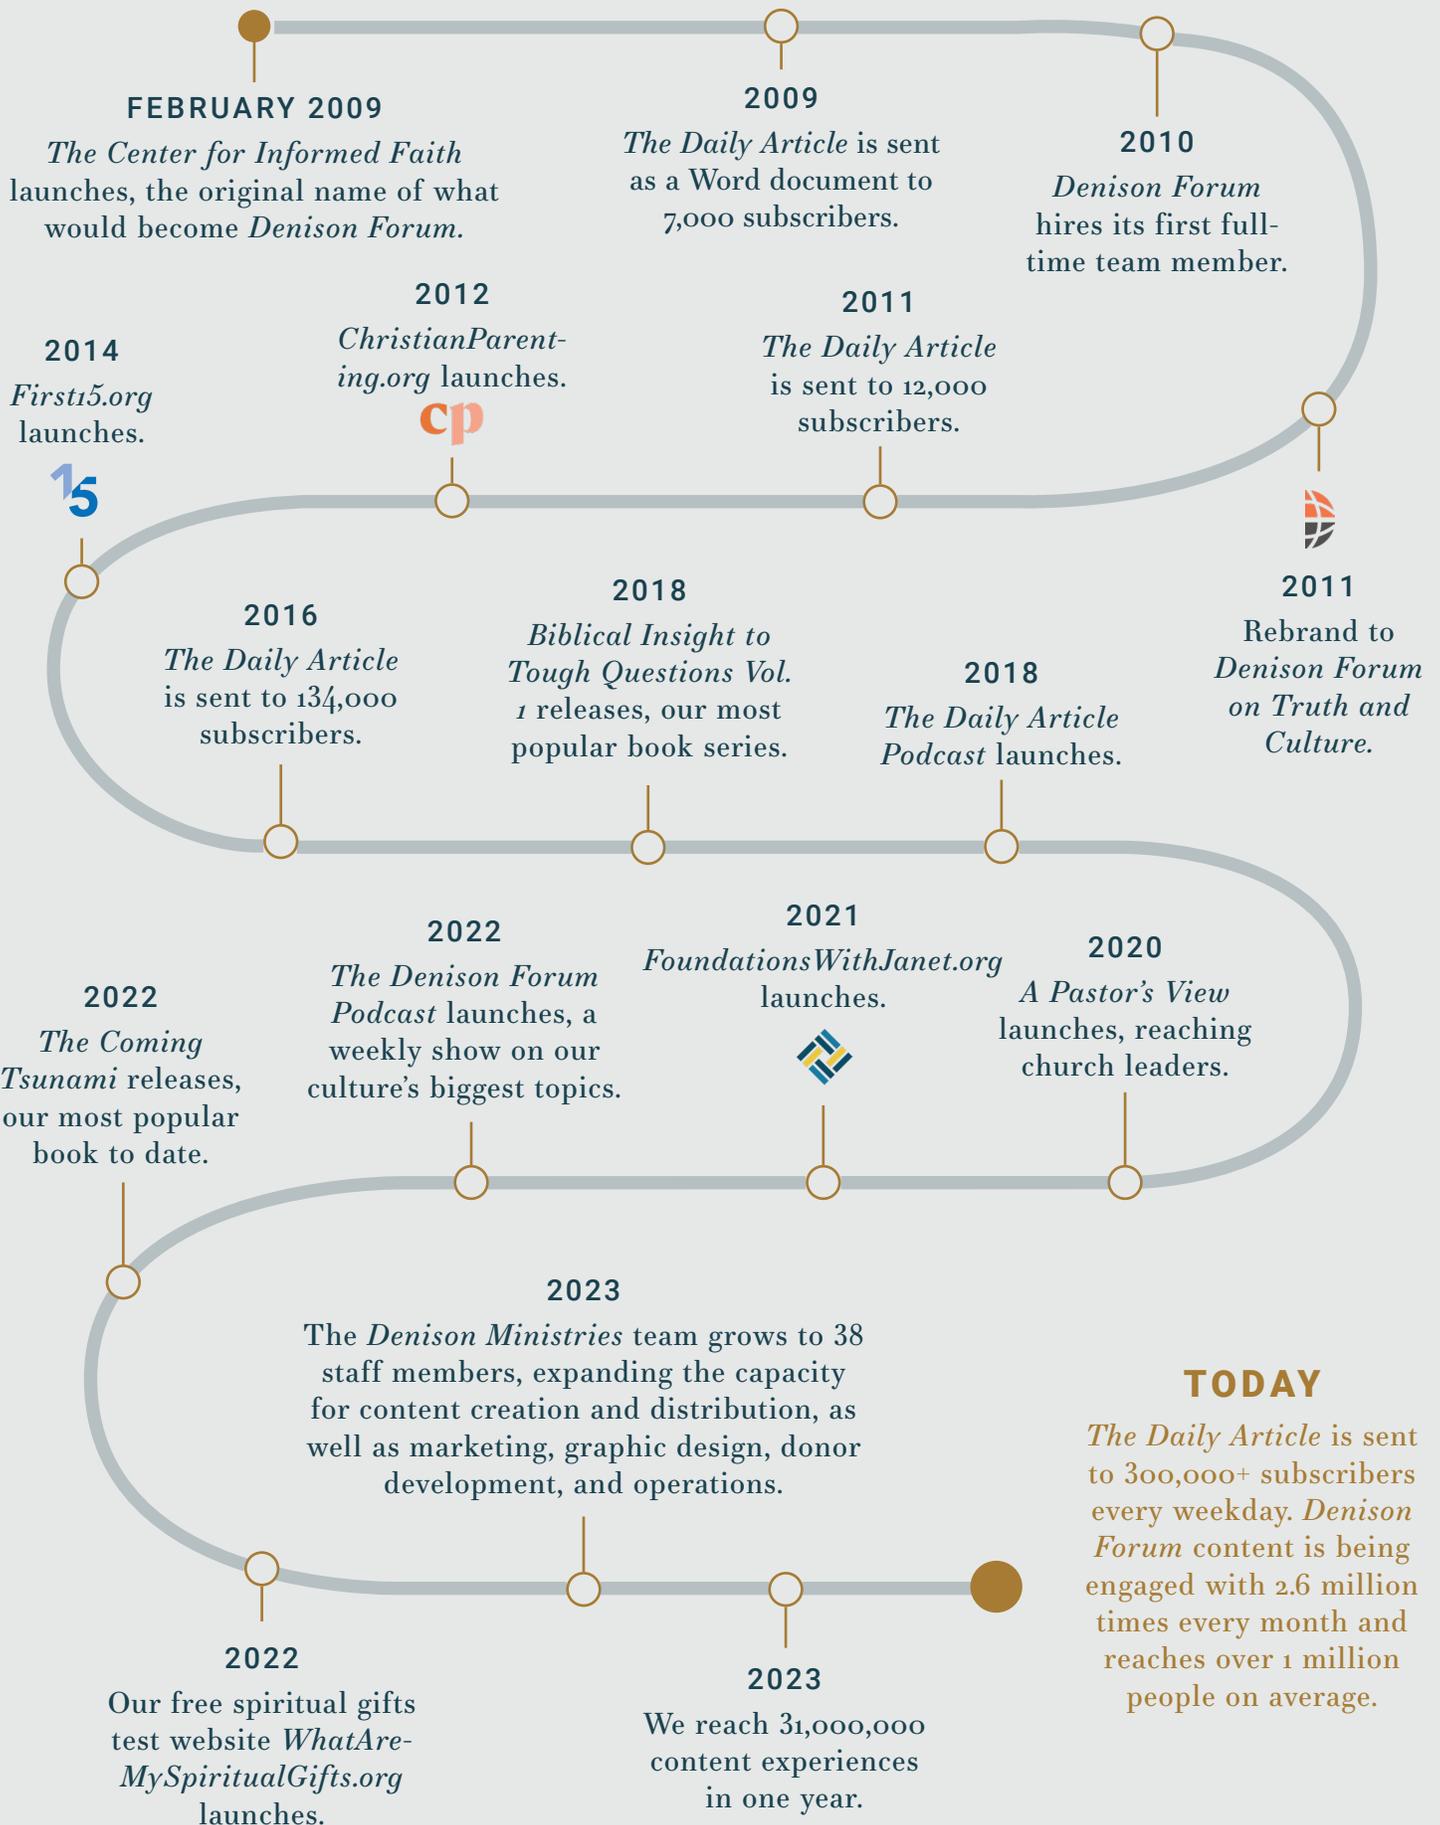

Your praying, your giving, and your sharing matters.

I can't wait to write this letter again fifteen years from now, to celebrate with you all God has surprised us with yet again.

A 8-episode series on The Denison Forum Podcast covering many topics relevant to the upcoming election.
Planned release: August–September.
- What does the Bible say about our identity?
This book considers why so many of the issues we face in our culture are a direct result of attempting to base our identity on something other than the Lord.
Planned release: October.
- 2024 Advent devotional
A perennial favorite for our audience, the new Advent devotional from Janet Denison asks: What does God want for our homes and lives during the busyness of Christmas?
Planned release: November.

TESTIMONIES

I am a faithful follower of the Denison Forum. Your column is a vital part of my morning devotional time. I am always encouraged by having a current issue analyzed and assigned a specific thought to be prayed about during my day. Thank you for the time and devotion to our Lord’s kingdom in our world today. - Shelly

Thank you for always encouraging me to “speak the truth with love”! I am also hoping and praying for spiritual awakening and revival in our nation. God bless you for your obedience to his calling in your ministry! - James

Because of faithful ministry partners like you, Denison Forum has grown over the last fifteen years to impact millions across the world with the truth of God’s word.

We are deeply grateful to God, for his guidance and his blessing, and to you, for your prayers and support.

JOIN OUR STORY.

Be part of the mission and calling of Denison Forum “to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ” (Ephesians 4:12).

Partner with us in one of these three ways—or all three:

Pray

Pray for readers to have receptive hearts and minds to God’s word. Pray for our team as we create and distribute daily biblical truth that equips and inspires. And pray that our culture might experience a spiritual Great Awakening soon.

Give

To reach millions requires a substantial amount for email delivery, website development, podcast production, marketing, staffing costs and much more.

When you donate, you impact people you may never meet this side of heaven.

To give now, scan the QR code or go to denisonforum.org/15years, or complete the enclosed reply card.

Share

Tell others about Denison Forum by sharing DenisonForum.org, our podcasts and forwarding “The Daily Article” emails with other believers. When you share our content, you share biblical truth with a world in dire need of it.
